A Temporary or Permanent Resolutions Committee may originate resolutions.

Rule No. 23A – Delegate Allocations and Entitlements

a. The delegate and alternate entitlements to the County or Senatorial District and State Conventions shall be based on the number of votes cast for the Party’s gubernatorial candidate in the most recent gubernatorial general election.

1. Each Precinct Convention shall be entitled to elect one delegate and one alternate to the County or Senatorial District Convention based on a ratio of one (1) for each twenty-five (25) votes and major fraction thereof within the boundaries of the voting precinct and further shown in more detail on the following table, provided that any Precinct Convention shall be entitled to elect at least one (1) delegate and one (1) alternate:

Votes	Delegates	Alternates
0-37	1	1
38-62	2	2
63-87	3	3
88-112	4	4
113-137	5	5
etc.	etc.	etc.

2. Each County or Senatorial District Convention shall be entitled to elect one (1) delegate and one (1) alternate to the State Convention based on a ratio of one (1) for each 300 votes and major fraction thereof within the boundaries of the County or Senatorial District and further shown in more detail on the following table, provided that any County or Senatorial District Convention shall be entitled to elect at least two (2) delegates and two (2) alternates:

Votes	Delegates	Alternates
0-750	2	2
751-1050	3	3
1051-1350	4	4
1351-1650	5	5
etc.	etc.	etc.

3. Each Precinct and County or Senatorial District Convention delegate and alternate delegate entitlement to the State Convention shall be increased or decreased proportionately among all delegations to achieve a State Convention potential delegate and alternate delegate roll of no less than 7,500 delegates and 7,500 alternate delegates and no more than 9,000 delegates and 9,000 alternate delegates to the State Convention.
- b. At the option of the local County Executive Committee (in counties containing only one senatorial district), Senatorial District Executive Committee (in a district comprising only a part of a single county), or the precinct chairs of the precincts residing in a particular senatorial district (for a county that is only partly situated in a senatorial district) by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of said committee, held no later than the date specified in the TEC for the required drawing for a place on the general primary ballot, the delegate entitlement may be changed to a ratio of one (1) to forty (40) and major fraction thereof, or any ratio in between one (1) to twenty-five (25) and one (1) to forty (40), for that year only if said committee can justify among their peers that it is impractical due to size or availability of space to use the formula permitting the maximum number.
- c. The delegate and alternate entitlement in a presidential election year for a County or Senatorial District Convention which includes more than one (1) Congressional District shall be apportioned among the Congressional Districts in the same manner they are apportioned to the County or Senatorial Districts, provided that the total delegate and

1 alternate entitlement from the County or Senatorial District does not exceed that provided for in this Rule. If the
2 calculation of delegate and alternate entitlements by Congressional District are different from the calculation of 3 delegate and alternate entitlements by County or Senatorial District, the following guidelines shall be used in 4 adjusting the total delegate/alternate entitlements:

- 5 1. The delegate and alternate totals shall not be greater than the delegate/alternate calculation for the County
6 or Senatorial District except that any Congressional District shall be entitled to elect at least one (1)
7 delegate and one (1) alternate which may cause the delegate/alternate entitlement for a County or Senatorial
8 District to exceed the total entitlement for the County or Senatorial District by the number of delegates and 9 alternates from one (1) or more Congressional Districts with less than enough votes to get an entitlement of 10 greater than one (1) pursuant to Section a of this Rule, in a presidential election year;
 - 11 2. Except as provided in Subsection 1 above, if the calculation for delegates and alternates by Congressional 12 District should exceed the number of delegates and alternates by Senatorial District, then the delegate and 13 alternate entitlement to the Congressional District shall be reduced beginning with the smallest fraction,
14 then continuing to the next higher fraction until the calculations are equal;
 - 15 3. If the calculation for delegates and alternates by Senatorial District should exceed the number of delegates
16 and alternates by Congressional District, then the delegate and alternate entitlement to the Congressional 17 District shall be increased beginning with the highest fraction, then continuing to the next lower fraction
18 until the calculations are equal;
 - 19 4. In a presidential election year, each delegate and each alternate shall have credentials for both the 20 Senatorial District and the Congressional District Caucuses and if a delegate or alternate is not credentialed 21 for both, the delegate or alternate shall not be credentialed for either.
- 22 d. In the event of boundary changes among precincts or districts, or the creation or deletion of precincts or districts 23 since the most recent gubernatorial election, the following rules shall govern the allocation of gubernatorial votes to 24 the changed or newly created precincts or districts.
- 25 1. The apportionment of gubernatorial votes to the newly created or changed precincts or districts shall be 26 made using any fair and equitable method for making such determination.
 - 27 2. The County Executive Committee shall apportion to each precinct the number of votes to be used in 28 allocating the number of delegates and alternates which may be elected by such precincts using any fair and 29 equitable method for making the determination.
 - 30 3. When the boundaries of a Senatorial District or Congressional District have changed or a new district

34 the State Convention. This report shall not be amendable by the State Convention, but shall either be confirmed or 35 rejected by the State Convention. If the report is rejected, it shall be immediately returned to the Committee for 36 revision and then resubmitted to the State Convention, until the report is confirmed by the Convention. The at-large
37 delegates and alternates shall also be bound by the pledge provisions of Section 10 of this Rule. At-large delegates

41 Section 8. District Delegate and Alternate Entitlements

42 For the purpose of determining the entitlement to district delegates and alternates by candidates, the provisions of this section 43 shall apply as follows:

- 44 a. More than Fifty Percent (50%) of Vote Received by Candidate: A candidate receiving more than fifty percent
45 (50%) of the votes in any Congressional District shall be entitled to three (3) delegates and alternates from that 46 Congressional District.
47 b. No Candidate Receives Majority of Vote: If no candidate receives a majority of the votes in any Congressional 48 District the plurality winner is entitled to two (2) delegates and alternates from that district and the candidate
49 receiving the next highest number of votes receives one (1) delegate and alternate; provided, however, that if no
50 candidate receives a majority vote in a Congressional District, and only one (1) candidate receives more than 20% of 51 the Congressional District vote, such candidate shall be entitled to two (2) delegates and alternates. The remaining 52 Congressional District delegate and alternate shall be awarded to the second (2nd) place candidate.
53 c. No Candidate Receives Twenty Percent (20%) of Vote: If no candidate receives more than twenty percent (20%),
54 each of the three (3) candidates receiving the highest number of votes shall receive one (1) delegate and alternate.
55

56 Section 9. At-Large Delegate and Alternate Entitlements

57 For the purpose of determining the entitlement to at-large delegates and alternates by candidates, the provisions of this 58 section shall apply, as follows:

- 1 a. At-Large Delegates and Alternates Allocated by State Convention Caucus: The delegates elected to participate in 2 the State Convention shall caucus by secret ballot and select a presidential candidate by plurality vote to receive the
3 entitlement of a number of at-large delegates and alternates that will represent twenty-five percent (25%) (rounded
4 down) of the total number of Texas delegates and alternates to the Republican National Convention. The State
5 Republican Executive Committee shall prescribe the process for each state convention delegate to cast their vote for 6 their presidential preference by electronic or paper ballot. The National Nominations Committee shall canvass the 7 vote and allocate the State Convention Caucus selection from among the at-large delegates prior to allocating the 8 remaining at-large delegates as follows:
- 9 b. At-Large Delegates and Alternates Allocated by Presidential Primary:
- 10 1. More than Fifty Percent (50%) of Vote Received by Candidate: A candidate receiving more than fifty 11 percent (50%) of the votes cast in the Presidential Primary canvassed on a statewide basis shall be entitled
12 to all remaining at-large delegates and alternates allocated to Texas under The Rules of the Republican 13 Party.
- 14 2. No Candidate Receives Majority of Vote: If no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast statewide in 15 the Presidential Primary, then the remaining at-large delegates and alternates shall be apportioned among 16 the candidates receiving more than twenty percent (20%) of the statewide vote in the ratio which the 17 number of votes received by each such candidate who received more than twenty percent (20%) of the 18 statewide vote, bears to the total of all such candidates receiving more than twenty percent (20%) of the 19 statewide vote, rounding fractional delegates and alternates upward to the next whole number beginning
20 with the candidate receiving the largest number of votes. However, if no candidate receives a majority of 21 the votes cast statewide in the Presidential Primary and only one candidate receives twenty percent (20%)
22 or more of the statewide vote, then the remaining at-large delegates and alternates shall be apportioned
23 between the candidate receiving more than twenty percent (20%) of the statewide vote and the candidate
24 receiving the second highest number of votes, in the ratio which the number of votes received by each such 25 candidate bears to the total votes for both such candidates, rounding fractional delegates and alternates
26 upward to the next whole number beginning with the candidate receiving the largest number of votes.
- 27 3. No Candidate Receives Twenty Percent (20%) of Vote: If no candidate receives more than twenty percent 28 (20%) of the votes cast statewide in the Presidential Primary, the remaining at-large delegates and 29 alternates shall be apportioned among all candidates, beginning with the candidate receiving the highest 30 number of votes and rounding fractional delegates and alternates upward to the next whole number, and 31 then awarding delegates and alternates to the second highest candidate in the same manner, and so forth 32 until the remaining at-large delegates and alternates to be apportioned have been fully awarded.
- 33 c. If, pursuant to Rules of the Republican Party Rule 17, either the chairman of the Republican National Committee or 34 the Republican National Committee Standing Committee on Rules, determines that subsection (a) of this Section is 35 in violation of the Rules of the Republican Party, all At-Large Delegates and Alternates will be allocated in 36 accordance with subsection (b) of this Section.
- 37

38 Section 10. Pledge of Delegates and Alternates.

- 39 a. Commitment to Candidate: By assenting to nomination on a Presidential candidate's slate, each delegate and

- 42 b. Length of Commitment: A person who is elected as a delegate or alternate to the National Convention on the slate
43 of a Presidential candidate by the State Convention to represent that particular Presidential candidate at the National 44 Convention and who does not resign from the position is pledged to support that Presidential candidate at the 45 National Convention until the candidate is nominated or until the delegate or alternate is released from the pledges
46 as follows:
- 47 1. First Nomination Convention Ballot: A delegate or alternate shall be released from the pledge only in the 48 event of death, withdrawal, or by decision of the candidate. For the first ballot taken at the National 49 Convention to determine the nominee of the Republican Party for the office of President of the United 50 States, the totals of the votes of the members of the Texas delegation shall be announced as assigned in 51 accordance with these Rules. No poll of the members of the delegation, except those delegates who are 52 uncommitted, shall be taken for the announcement of the vote.
- 53 2. Second Nominating Convention Ballot: A delegate or alternate shall be released from the pledge if the 54 candidate has failed to receive twenty percent (20%) or more of the total vote cast on the preceding ballot;
55 or by the decision of the candidate;
- 56 3. Third and Subsequent Nominating Convention Ballots: All delegates and alternates are released from any

2 candidates presented at the National Convention.

- 5 a. Written Notice: Any delegate or alternate may resign by giving written notice to the Delegation Chairman and the 6 State Chairman at any time before the date of the National Convention.
7 b. Filling Vacancy: Should a vacancy occur in the at-large delegation after the date of the State Convention but prior
8 to the convening of the National Convention, the Chairman of the National Nomination Committee of the State
9 Convention shall fill such vacancy by appointing, in writing, any at-large alternate to fill any at-large delegate
10 position. To fill the vacancy of an at-large alternate, the said Chairman may select any person eligible under this 11 Rule to hold said position, inasmuch as possible under The Rules of the Republican Party. In the case of a vacancy
12 in a district delegate position, the paired alternate shall be moved over, and the presidential candidate or his/her
13 designated representative shall appoint a new alternate, with the condition that the person so appointed shall reside
14 in the same Congressional District at the time of appointment as the Congressional District in which the vacancy
15 occurred. In the case of a vacancy in a district alternate position, the presidential candidate or his/her designated 16 representative shall appoint a new alternate, with the condition that the person so appointed shall reside in the same
17 Congressional District at the time of appointment as the Congressional District in which the vacancy occurred. All
18 appointments shall be made from those nominated at the convention, if possible. If no potential nominee exists, then 19 the presidential candidate or his/her designated representative shall appoint as a new alternate anyone eligible under 20 this Rule to hold said position, provided that said nominee(s) agree to adhere to pledge to the candidate required
21 under Section 10 hereof.

Dear Chairman Mechler, Ms. Dashiell, and Mr. Armstrong:

This correspondence serves as official notification pursuant to Rule 17 of The Rules of the Republican Party (the "National Party Rules") and in accordance with Rule 38(9)(c) of The Rules of the Republican Party of Texas (the "Texas Party Rules") that the Chairman of the Republican National Committee has determined that Rule 38(9)(a) of the Texas Party Rules is in violation of the National Party Rules.
